LAUNCHING

Mr. Davis's Daughter Will Christen the New Tug Thursday Afternoon-Briefs.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch?
No. 1102 Hull Street.)
Mr. Robert Ballantine and Mrs. Sarah
D. Texter were joined together in matrimony by Rev. A. B. Sharpe about 9 o'clock last night.
That the couple were anxious to have the ceremony performed is shown by the fact that they first went to the police station and inquired if the ceremony could take place there. They were informed that they would have to go iurther, and, as it turned out, fare better-and so they sought Clerk Duval's residence, routed that worthy gentleman out; and the party went to the courthouse, where that necessary, preliminary, a license, was secured. Armed with this the couple bent their steps to the rsidence of Rev. Mr. Sharpe. After a slight difficulty with the door-bell, they made themselves heard, and were courteously ushered into the house by Mrs. Sharpe.
In a few sgituted whispers they made their purposs known, and Mr. Sharpe.
In a few satisted whispers they made their purposs known, and Mr. Sharpe, who was absent, was hurriedly dispatchted for. He returned in a few moments, and the blushing groom again, with the assistance of his flance, repeated his mission. The license was produced, duly examined and pronounced by Mr. Sharpe satisfactory in every particular.

"I see." he observed to Mr. Ballentone,
"that you have traveled this road before."

"Yes," answered the groom, hestatinggroom requested that the obeying clause be stricken from the formula, observing that he didn't think it right that wives should promise to obey their husbands. He stated that the request was not made at the instance of the bride, but from his own notion of justice.

DEVOTE HIS LIFE TO THE UNIVERSITY

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., July 11.—
The rector of the heard of visitors of the University of Virginia received on yesterday the following letter from Dr. Edwin
A. Alderman:

Helel Victoria

The rector of the hoard of visitors of the University of Virginia received on yesterday the following letter from Dr. Edwin A. Alderman;

Hotel Victoria, New York, July 7, 1904.

Hon. Charles P. Jones, On Tuesday, June 1th, I had the honor to receive your telegram announcing my election as president of the University of Virginia, On yesterday I sent you by telegram my formal acceptance of that sreat honor and trust. It seems to me proper that I should more formally and by letter acquaint you of my decision.

I have spent the three weeks intervening between the action of the board of visitors and my decision in an earnest effort to discover the right thing to do in this great matter.

As you well know, I did not seek this high office and this great responsibility, for my mind and my heart were full of problems of the Tulane University of Louisians—an institution dear to me and full of power for the future in our national life. It cost me much suffering to sever my relations with that University and with the broad-minded and generous-hearted people who sustain it, but I have, come to you because the call seemed to me a clear call of duty and responsibility, which I could not put aside.

This is no moment for mere protestation. I shall give to the University of Virginia whatever of strength I have of mind or body or spirit, I shall study its past with reverence and I shall seek to build about it for the future in the spirit of a man who has something very preclous entrusted to his keeping.

Of my own self I can do very littic, and that little lil, but if the strength of every man and woman who loves the lower of visitors and the people of Virginia, to whom the University belongs, will have patience with me if my purpose he dear to do wha! I can.

Figure I shall, however, believe that the board of visitors and the people of Virginia, to whom the University belongs, will have patience with me if my purpose he dear to do wha! I can.

Figure I shall, however, believe that the board of visitors and the people of Virgin in Texas and also in Mexico, and was gratified by the outlook.

"We are not making any unqualified claims yet," he said. "The worst season for yellow fever is in August and Beptember, but if there was to be a dangerous epidemic it would very likely begin to show itsel by this time.

The principal work of the health authorities consists in destroying the pestilence-breeding and disease-carrying mosquito. For many months proclamations have been issued and circular matter scattered about explaining to the people the danger of the mosquito and asking them to co-operate in the work.

Dr. Wyman says that at first it was rather hard to awaken the people to the vital importance of the work, but that of late they have been successful in arousing public sentiment to the desired point. The Governor of Texas issued a proclamation to the people of the State on the matter, and even in Mexico the government authorities are carefully co-operating with the work being done on this side of the border.
